Page 8, line 26, INSERT New Findings of Fact:

"Additional Findings:

While the Commission is supportive of a one-time reallocation of residential distributed generation funds for use by schools, we remain committed to residential distributed generation and wish to make it clear that APS retains its obligation to meet its residential distributed generation requirements under the REST. Therefore, if it becomes clear that any requests for residential distributed generation funding may go unmet as a result of this Order, we believe that APS should immediately notify the Commission of the potential for residential projects to go unfunded, and file an Application for additional funding of APS' REST distributed generation program.

Further, we are concerned that APS may be failing to adequately reach out to and communicate with residential consumers regarding the availability of funding for distributed residential solar systems. The REST contains an aggressive distributed generation requirement – one of the most ambitious of its kind in the nation – and utility Companies must work assiduously to notify consumers of the various solar energy options available to them. Therefore, we will require APS to file, as a supplement to its 2010 Implementation Plan, a marketing plan designed to allow it to meet or exceed its residential distributed generation requirements under the REST. This marketing plan could include, but is not limited to, a collaborative marketing and media outreach effort between APS and other utilities in Arizona that is designed to make consumers statewide aware of Arizona's unique solar energy program."

Page 9, line 8, INSERT NEW ORDERING PARAGRAPH: "APS shall immediately notify the Commission and file an Application for additional funding of the RES distributed generation program should it become clear that the shifting of funding out of the residential program toward schools is preventing homeowners from accessing the distributed generation funds that would otherwise have been available."

Page 9, line 8, INSERT NEW ORDERING PARAGRAPH: "APS shall file, by September 30, 2009, as a supplement to its 2010 Implementation Plan, a marketing plan designed to allow it to meet or exceed its residential distributed generation requirements under the REST. This marketing plan could include, but is not limited to, a collaboration between APS and other utilities in Arizona designed to make consumers statewide aware of Arizona's unique distributed solar energy program."
